Dear parent/carers

Platinum Jubilee celebration – wear red, white and blue to school

We are looking forward to celebrating Queen Elizabeth's platinum jubilee and finding out about our monarchs 70 years on the throne. This important national event is celebrated whilst we are on half term holiday and so we are celebrating it at Hollis Academy on Friday 27th May (the last day of the half term).

The day will be filled with exciting activities to help us find out about what it takes to be a Queen and what she has achieved in her 70 years. Hollis Academy will be joining the UK's biggest Jubilee lunch, having a whole school sports gala and completing activities with usual class groups throughout the day. All of the usual support will be there for your child to help ensure they feel confident in joining in and enjoying themselves.

As part of this special day, we would like students to put away their uniform for a day and wear red, white and blue clothing. Football kits are absolutely fine as long as they are red, white or blue. Please don't send your child into school in expensive clothing that could be damaged during our creative arts and crafts sessions.

Thank you for your support.

Warm regards
